Item 1. Report to Shareholders.

Dear Shareholders,

"Rome was not built in a day." "This is a marathon, not a sprint." "Slow and steady wins the race." "Even a long journey begins with a single step." "Don't worry if you're not where you want to be yet; great things take time." There are probably 20 other sayings like these. Here's what is most relevant to our fourth quarter at 180 Degree Capital Corp. and our shareholders. "Stocks don't go up all the time and forever."

In the fourth quarter of 2017, our net asset value per share ("NAV") declined to $2.60, or by $0.08, from $2.68 as of the end of the prior quarter. Further below, we discuss in detail all the puts and takes for what helped and hurt in the quarter. Our biggest holding, Adesto Technologies Corporation (NASDAQ:IOTS), declined from $7.85 to $6.45, which, for us, equates to a decline of $0.067 per share, or 84% of the total decline in our NAV. Given that Adesto started the year at $1.85 and rose to $7.85 at the end of the third quarter of 2017, we shouldn't be surprised the stock pulled back. We continue to believe Adesto is positioned to deliver substantial revenue growth and significantly improved EBITDA and earnings. If we are right on the fundamentals, the stock should resume its growth trajectory and continue to add to our NAV.

180's view is that persistent long-term performance trumps short-term results. Our goal is to make money for our shareholders. That didn't happen in the fourth quarter. We mentioned last quarter that it would be irrational to annualize what was a staggeringly great quarter of 9.8% growth. We don't think the fourth quarter is the new norm either. A year is more representative for evaluating success than is a quarter. For the first time since 2010, 180's NAV grew on an annual basis. 180 started the year at NAV of $2.34 and ended at $2.60. One could argue the increase in our NAV was because of a bull market. Our response to that is simple: we have had a rising market each of the last six years, and during that time we never grew our NAV.

In the fourth quarter, 180 announced that it led a $7.85 million round of financing in TheStreet, Inc. (NASDAQ:TST), which we believe has the potential to materially increase our NAV over the next 1-2 years. This financing included $4 million of capital from our balance sheet and $3.85 million raised from a family office and high-net-worth individuals through a fund formed and managed by 180. The proceeds from this financing, along with cash from TST's balance sheet, were used to retire TST's preferred stock, which served as an overhang on TST's ability to build value for common stockholders. In conjunction with this investment, 180 received the right to appoint a board seat that I currently occupy.

The TST transaction serves as a model for the type of 'constructive activism' we talk about when describing our investment process. We found a good company with a strong management team whose value was hindered by a capital structure problem. The turnaround at TST was already underway when we became interested in the company and its story. We worked with TST's management and board to find a solution to its preferred stock overhang that provided benefits to all parties involved. We are pleased that it came together the way it did. We have already rolled up our sleeves and are working to assist the company in creating value for all common shareholders. We believe TST is undervalued as it currently trades at less than 1x enterprise value to revenues. Given that 90 percent of TST's revenues are recurring subscriptions, we would expect the business to trade at a minimum of twice that multiple based on comparable publicly traded companies. We are excited about TST's prospects and look forward to updating you on our progress.

The TST transaction also affords us the opportunity to manage third-party capital, which provides 180 with income and the potential for additional returns on invested capital. It also allows us to take advantage of opportunities for investment that would otherwise be difficult to complete solely from cash on our balance sheet. Consequently, this transaction embodies everything we aimed to accomplish when we changed our strategy to build our brand of constructive activism.

In previous communications, we have talked about our three key strategic imperatives: 1) reduce our cost structure, 2) grow our NAV, and 3) narrow the discount our stock trades relative to NAV. We will add a fourth as we think about 2018: more on that after we discuss our progress on our three 2017 imperatives.

1. EXPENSES

We have greatly reduced our operating expenses, which makes it easier to grow NAV than in years past. Over the last five years, our operating expenses, excluding stock-based compensation and interest on outstanding debt, averaged approximately $1.6 million per quarter. In 2016, our operating expenses, excluding stock-based compensation and interest on outstanding debt, averaged approximately $1.3 million per quarter. In 2017, our operating expenses, excluding stock-based compensation, one-time restructuring costs, and the year-end compensation pool and including sublease income, averaged approximately $730,000 per quarter. In other words, we have significantly reduced our on-going expense-related burn rate from 7.3% percent of net assets in 2016, to a run-rate of less than 4% of net assets.

We are aware that every dollar we spend is a dollar from the shareholders. Therefore, we are hawks when it comes to our cost structure. Over the past year, our professional fees declined 60% from $1.37 million to $550,000. Our administration and operations expenses declined 45% from $560,000 to $300,000. Our office in Montclair, New Jersey, costs $33,600 per year, or 89% less than the $300,000 per year for our old office space in New York City. All in all, as it relates to reducing our costs, we did what we said we would, and more.

We spoke last quarter about our compensation program for management. In general, the objectives of the company's compensation program are to align the interests of shareholders and employees; motivate and retain employees by providing market-competitive total compensation; and attract talented new employees in a competitive market. Our compensation committee analyzes how to balance these factors, but at the end of the day it is simple: the growth of 180's value is the prerequisite for an end-of-year compensation pool. The compensation committee has designed this pool to reward both annual and persistent performance of individuals and the company. Our NAV last quarter included an accrual for a year-end compensation pool. The NAV reported for this quarter includes an additional accrual of $150,000 for a year-end compensation. All in, including the year-end compensation pool for 2017, our total compensation expenses, not including a stock-based compensation net benefit, still decreased as a portion of net assets from 3.3% in 2016 to 2.9% in 2017. A material portion of the year-end compensation pool will be deferred and only paid to members of management if their performance on board-defined metrics during the prior year are persistent over subsequent years. We care about performance over one year, but true success should only be measured over a longer period of time. We will only earn compensation beyond base salaries and benefits if shareholders win. In 2017, we all won.

2. NET ASSET VALUE PER SHARE

Following last quarter's nearly 10% increase in our NAV, our NAV declined 3.0% from $2.68 to $2.60 in the fourth quarter. As noted above, 84% of the decrease in our NAV ($0.067 per share) came from a decrease in the value of Adesto. A deeper dive into the quarter shows in total, our total public markets portfolio declined by $0.05 per share.

- TheStreet rallied 34% in the quarter and increased our NAV by $0.04 per share. We note that the value of our unregistered shares of TheStreet included a discount for lack of marketability of 6.4% to the closing price of TST's stock at the end of the year.
- Synacor (NASDAQ:SYNC) declined 15% in the quarter after the company lowered expectations for the ramp up of revenues from the AT&T portal. Synacor trades at what we believe is an incomprehensible 0.35x enterprise value to estimated 2018 revenue. The company also has growing EBITDA. So, what is the problem? The issue is the company's credibility with Wall Street; it currently has none. The company did a secondary offering in the spring of 2017 and made bold predictions for its revenue growth. Quite simply, they over-promised and under-delivered. Financial analysts reduced their financial expectations for 2018 and the share price has reset at lower levels. With lowered and more reasonable assumptions for forecasted revenues in 2018, we are hopeful the current trend in its stock price can be reversed. If the company focuses on cost control, we believe they should have double-digit EBITDA margins on current revenues. If they achieve double-digit EBITDA margins, the stock should be meaningfully higher.
- Finally, Mersana (NASDAQ:MRSN) declined 5% in the quarter against general weakness in the biotech sector.

Combined, Synacor and Mersana reduced our NAV by $0.023 per share.

Our private portfolio companies decreased in value by $237,000, or slightly less than $0.01 per share. The largest sources of change in value during the quarter are discussed below.

- AgBiome increased by $527,206 ($0.017 per share) due to an increase in the value of publicly traded comparable companies used to derive valuation.
- Essential Health Solutions increased $418,735 (shade over $0.013 per share) for the same reason.
- Produced Water Absorbents, our biggest decrease in value, declined by $839,343 ($0.027 per share.) This decrease resulted primarily from the terms of additional capital the company needed to fund operations.

We continue to believe in the potential for our most mature companies, D-Wave Systems, Inc., AgBiome LLC, HZO, Inc. and Nanosys, Inc. There are other companies in the portfolio that also hold promise, however, these companies are in early stages of development and the timelines and potential exit values for these companies are highly uncertain.

The strategy of our company is to convert, at the highest value possible, our private portfolio into cash. Given our reduced operating expenses, we are in a much better position to determine when to realize value, rather than being forced to sell our positions to survive. We seek to use the returns from these investments for making new investments in publicly traded companies, or for distributions to shareholders in the form of dividends or share repurchases. Finally, as it relates to our quarterly NAV change, our operating expenses net of investment and other income reduced our NAV by $0.02.

As for calendar year 2017, we achieved a nearly 11% increase ($0.26 per share) in our NAV. More specifically, our public portfolio added $0.38 per share and our private portfolio added $0.03. Our operating expenses net of investment income were ($0.10) per share and we had ($0.05) per share in restructuring charges. We generated $12.0 million in growth from our public holdings on a starting value of $17.7 million (excluding warrants and including Mersana's year-end 2016 valuation; Mersana completed an IPO June 2017) and achieved a 68% return on our public portfolio. Yes, it was a bull market, but by comparison, the Russell Microcap Value index total return was 15.1%. We generated nearly 4x the performance of our closest benchmark index. As for our new strategy, it was successful, and our stock selection in 2017 was exceptional.

3. TURN/NAV; SUM OF THE PARTS

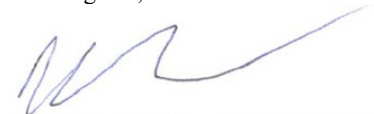

As of end of 2017, TURN's common stock traded at 75.8% of our NAV. Our liquid assets, cash and other assets net of liabilities were worth $0.83 per share ($25.9 million). Our stock price was $1.97 per share. If we received 100% credit for the value of these assets net of liabilities, the market is ascribing a value of $1.14 per share ($35.5 million) of TURN's stock price to our private portfolio. Given our private assets are valued by us at $55.2 million, the market is discounting the value of our private portfolio assets by 35.8%. As we grow our cash and liquid securities, the discount our stock trades to NAV should narrow. At the beginning of 2016, our cash and liquid securities were 27.5% of our net assets. They are now 34.0%. In the beginning of the year our stock traded at 59% of our NAV. Today, that number is 76%. That's progress and illustrates why our strategy to focus on public companies was conducive to restoring value in our share price.

4. THINKING ABOUT 2018

In prior communications, we discussed strategic initiatives around managing third-party capital. We are continuing to pursue a broker dealer license to expand our ability to raise capital for special purpose vehicles and other managed funds. We are aiming to have that license by the end of the second quarter. The success of efforts to raise capital are often related directly to the people who have extensive networks of potential investors. The broker dealer license will enable us to hire, and appropriately compensate, individuals involved in raising such capital. Having the broker dealer license will also enable us to raise capital for other entities, raise capital for our portfolio companies, and generate income for 180 from such efforts. Our investment in TheStreet was our first foray into managed funds. We want to do more. As a strategic priority for 2018, we will look to engage with other like-minded investors to see if there are partnerships available that could lead to launching new funds; managed and/or co-managed by 180. By the end of 2018, our goal is for 180 to have significantly more assets in managed products.

We had a down quarter but a good year. My hope when we started was to be able to show progress sooner rather than later. For the year, our NAV was up 11%. Prior to that, one had to travel back to 2010 to find a year where our NAV increased. For the year, our share price was up 43%. The last time our share price was up for the year was 2009. While that's hard to believe, it's the stark reality of our past. Today, we are in a better place. The father of value investing, Benjamin Graham, explained the concept of voting and weighing machines. He said, in the short run, the market is like a voting machine --- it tallies up which firms are popular and unpopular. But in the long run, the market is like a weighing machine --- it assesses the substance of a company. What matters the most for 180 is our underlying business performance over the long term; not the investing public's fickle opinion about our prospects in the short run. Don't get me wrong, we are thrilled our shareholders have benefited in our new strategy and the performance of our stock in 2017. We have bigger goals in mind for 180. We want 180 to be known as a prominent and dominant leader in our world of public company constructive activism. We will continue to strive for excellence in investment performance. We want to be known as game changers in helping businesses generate positive shareholder returns. The first year was good. We hope the next several years provide a step function in our success and additional value creation for shareholders.

Best Regards,

Kevin M. Rendino

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1. THE COMPANY

180 Degree Capital Corp. (f/k/a Harris & Harris Group, Inc.) (the "Company," "us," "our" and "we"), withdrew its election to be treated as a business development company on March 30, 2017, and subsequently returned to its historical status as a registered non-diversified closed-end management investment company ("Closed-End Fund" or "CEF") under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "1940 Act"). Ventures pays taxes on income generated by its operations as well as on any non-passive investment income generated by Harris Partners I, L.P. For the year ended December 31, 2017, there was no non-passive investment income generated by Harris Partners I, L.P. Ventures, as the sole general partner, consolidates Harris Partners I, L.P. The Company consolidates Ventures for financial reporting purposes.

As of December 31, 2017, H&H Co-Investment Partners did not have any capital under management. The Company is also the Managing Member of 180 Degree Capital Management, LLC ("180CM"), a limited liability company formed to facilitate the opportunity for interested investors to co-invest alongside the Company in its publicly traded portfolio companies. The Company does not consolidate the operations of any capital managed in separate series of 180CM and it does not expect to consolidate the operations of any capital managed in separate series of H&H Co-Investment Partners, if and when it has capital under management.

180 Degree Capital BD, LLC ("180BD") is a 100 percent owned subsidiary of the Company. 180BD was formed to provide services to the Company related to fundraising for co-investment funds and not for investment returns. 180BD is currently in registration with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") to obtain a broker-dealer license. The Company consolidates 180BD for financial reporting purposes. 180BD is currently a disregarded entity for tax purposes under the Code.

NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements:

Principles of Consolidation. The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the US ("GAAP") and include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiary. The Company is an investment company following accounting and reporting guidance in Accounting Standards Codification 946. In accordance with GAAP and Regulation S-X under 17 C.F.R. Part 210, the Company may only consolidate its interests in investment company subsidiaries and controlled operating companies whose business consists of providing services to the Company. Our wholly owned subsidiaries, Ventures and 180BD, are controlled operating companies that provide services to us and are, therefore, consolidated. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Use of Estimates. The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and contingent assets and liabilities and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses. Actual results could differ from these estimates, and the differences could be material. The most significant estimates relate to the fair valuations of our investments.

Portfolio Investment Valuations. Investments are stated at "value" as defined in the 1940 Act and in the applicable regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and in accordance with GAAP. Value, as defined in Section 2(a)(41) of the 1940 Act, is (i) the market price for those securities for which a market quotation is readily available and (ii) the fair value as determined in good faith by, or under the direction of, the Board of Directors for all other assets. The Valuation Committee, comprised of all of the independent Board members, is responsible for determining the valuation of the Company's assets within the guidelines established by the Board of Directors. The Valuation Committee receives information and recommendations from management. An independent valuation firm also reviews select portfolio company valuations. The independent valuation firm does not provide independent valuations. The fair values assigned to these investments are based on available information and do not necessarily represent amounts that might ultimately be realized when that investment is sold, as such amounts depend on future circumstances and cannot reasonably be determined until the individual investments are actually liquidated or become readily marketable. The Valuation Committee values the Company's investment assets as of the end of each calendar quarter and as of any other time requested by the Board of Directors.

Accounting Standards Codification Topic 820, "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures," ("ASC 820") defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (exit price). It applies fair value terminology to all valuations whereas the 1940 Act applies market value terminology to readily marketable assets and fair value terminology to other assets.

The main approaches to measuring fair value utilized are the market approach, the income approach and the hybrid approach.

- Market Approach (M): The market approach focuses on inputs and not techniques. The market approach may use quantitative inputs such as prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets or liabilities and the values of market multiples derived from a set of comparable companies. The market approach may also use qualitative inputs such as progress toward milestones, the long-term potential of the business, current and future financing requirements and the rights and preferences of certain securities versus those of other securities. The selection of the relevant inputs used to derive value under the market approach requires judgment considering factors specific to the significance and relevance of each input to deriving value.
- Income Approach (I): The income approach focuses on techniques and not inputs. The income approach uses valuation techniques to convert future amounts (for example, revenue, cash flows or earnings) to a single present value amount (discounted). The measurement is based on the value indicated by current market expectations about those future amounts. Those valuation techniques include present value techniques; option-pricing models, such as the Black-Scholes-Merton formula (a closed-form model) and a binomial model (a lattice model), which incorporate present value techniques; and the multi-period excess earnings method, which is used to measure the fair value of certain assets.
- Hybrid Approach (H): The hybrid approach uses elements of both the market approach and the income approach. The hybrid approach calculates values using the market and income approach, individually. The resulting values are then distributed among the share classes based on probability of exit outcomes.

ASC Topic 820 classifies the inputs used to measure fair value by these approaches into the following hierarchy:

- Level 1 (L1): Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 (L2): Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These include quoted prices in active markets for similar assets or liabilities, or quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, or inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument. Level 2 inputs are in those markets for which there are few transactions, the prices are not current, little public information exists or instances where prices vary substantially over time or among brokered market makers; and
- Level 3 (L3): Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement. Unobservable inputs are those inputs that reflect our own assumptions that market participants would use to price the asset or liability based upon the best available information.

Financial assets and liabilities are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement and are not necessarily an indication of risks associated with the investment.

As of December 31, 2017, our financial statements include investments fair valued by the Board of Directors of $59,941,103 and one investment valued under the equity method at $256,622. The fair values and equity method value were determined in good faith by, or under the direction of, the Board of Directors. The fair value amount includes the values of our privately held investments as well as our restricted common stock and restricted stock units of TheStreet, Inc., and our warrants of Champions Oncology, Inc. and OpGen, Inc., which are all publicly traded companies. Our investment in Accelerator IV-New York Corporation is accounted for under the equity method of accounting as it represents non-controlling interest in operating entities that provide investment advisory services to the Company. Under the equity method, investments are carried at cost, plus or minus the Company's equity in the increases and decreases in the investee's net assets after the date of acquisition and certain other adjustments. The Company's share of the net income or loss of the investee is included in "Share of loss on equity method investment" on the Company's Consolidated Statement of Operations. Upon sale of investments, the values that are ultimately realized may be different from the fair value presented in the Company's financial statements. The difference could be material.

Cash. Cash includes demand deposits. Cash is carried at cost, which approximates fair value.

Restricted Cash. At December 31, 2017, we held $46,151 in "Restricted cash", as security deposits for a sub-lease. These funds are not considered part of operating cash of the Company.

Unaffiliated Rights to Payments. At December 31, 2017, the outstanding potential milestone payments from Amgen, Inc.'s acquisition of BioVex Group, Inc., were valued at $2,211,867. The milestone payments are derivatives and valued using the probability-adjusted, present value of proceeds from future payments that would be due upon successful completion of certain regulatory and sales milestones.

At December 31, 2017, the outstanding potential rights to payments from Xenio Holdings, Inc.'s merger with Xenio Systems, Inc., were valued at $0.

Prepaid Expenses. We include prepaid insurance premiums and deferred financing charges in "Prepaid expenses." Prepaid insurance premiums are recognized over the term of the insurance contract and are included in "Insurance expense" in the Consolidated Statement of Operations.

Property and Equipment. Property and equipment are included in "Other assets" and are carried at $199,520 at December 31, 2017, representing cost, less accumulated depreciation of $178,251. Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the property and equipment. We estimate the useful lives to be five to ten years for furniture and fixtures, and three years for computer equipment.

Post-Retirement Plan Liabilities. Until it was terminated on April 27, 2017, the Company provided a Retiree Medical Benefit Plan for employees who met certain eligibility requirements. Until it was terminated on May 5, 2011, the Company also provided an Executive Mandatory Retirement Benefit Plan for certain individuals employed by us in a bona fide executive or high policy-making position. The net periodic post-retirement benefit cost for the year includes service cost for the year and interest on the accumulated post-retirement benefit obligation. Unrecognized actuarial gains and losses are recognized as net periodic benefit cost, pursuant to the Company's historical accounting policy in "Salaries and benefits" in the Consolidated Statement of Operations. The impact of plan amendments was amortized over the employee's average service period as a reduction of net periodic benefit cost. Unamortized prior service cost was fully amortized during the year as a result of the termination of the Retiree Medical Benefit Plan, which is also recorded in "Salaries and benefits".

Interest Income Recognition. Interest income, including amortization of premium and accretion of discount, is recorded on an accrual basis. When accrued interest is determined not to be recoverable, the Company ceases accruing interest and writes off any previously accrued interest. Securities are deemed to be non-income producing if investments have not paid dividends or interest within the last 12 months. Write-offs are netted in interest income. During the year ended December 31, 2017, the Company earned $432,029 in cash interest on senior secured debt, secured and unsecured convertible bridge notes and interest-bearing accounts. During the year ended December 31, 2017, the Company recorded, on a net basis, $58,912 of bridge note cash interest. During the year ended December 31, 2017, the Company recorded, on a net basis, $193,767 of bridge note PIK interest.

Yield-Enhancing Fees on Debt Securities. Yield-enhancing fees received in connection with our non-convertible debt investments are deferred. The unearned fee income is accreted into income based on the effective interest method over the life of the investment. During the year ended December 31, 2017, total yield-enhancing fees accreted into investment income was $158,856.

Fees for Providing Managerial Assistance to Portfolio Companies. During the year ended December 31, 2017, the Company earned income of $241,306 owing to certain of its employees providing managerial assistance to certain portfolio companies. Earned income totaling $218,750 during the year was primarily from HALE.life Corporation (f/k/a Interome, Inc.).

Fees were also received from certain other portfolio companies during the year, including Essential Health Solutions, Inc., Fleet Health Alliance, LLC, Muses Labs, Inc., and TheStreet, Inc.

Management Fees and Carried Interest from Managed Fund. As of December 31, 2017, the Company managed $3.85 million of external capital as the investment manager of TST SPV. The Company receives management fees for its services as investment manager that are earned and accrued from the date of inception of the fund, November 10, 2017, through the date of liquidation of the fund. These management fees will be paid to us upon liquidation of the fund regardless of the performance of the fund. The accrued management fees as of December 31, 2017, were $7,161. Management fee income is recorded in "Other income" in the accompanying Consolidated Statement of Operations.

As Managing Member of TST SPV, we are entitled to carried interest on profits generated on the managed capital. If TST SPV were liquidated as of December 31, 2017, we would receive approximately $110,000. We do not include accruals for carried interest in our financial statements until such carried interest is received and/or the possibility of reversal of such accrual is not probable. We assessed the possibility of a reversal of such accrual as probable as of December 31, 2017, and therefore do not include such accrual in our financial statements as of that date.

Stock-Based Compensation. Until its termination on March 27, 2017, the Company had a stock-based employee compensation plan. The Company accounted for the Amended and Restated 180 Degree Capital Corp. 2012 Equity Incentive Plan (the "Stock Plan") by recording the grant date fair value of all share-based payments to employees, including the fair value of grants of employee stock options and restricted stock awards, as an expense in the Consolidated Statement of Operations over the vesting period with a corresponding increase (decrease) to our additional paid-in capital. For the year ended December 31, 2017, due to the forfeiture of certain share based awards, (see Note 7. Stock-Based Compensation), there was a decrease to operating expenses in respect of stock based compensation. This decrease to our operating expenses was offset by the decrease to our additional paid-in capital, resulting in no net impact to our net asset value. Additionally, the Company did not record the potential tax benefits associated with the expensing of stock options or restricted stock because the Company currently intends to qualify as a regulated investment company ("RIC") under Subchapter M of the Code, and the deduction attributable to such expensing, therefore, is unlikely to provide any additional tax savings. The amount of non-cash, stock-based compensation expense recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Operations is based on the grant date fair value of the awards, recognized over the vesting period on a straight-line basis for each award, and adjusted for actual awards vested and pre-vesting forfeitures. See Note 7 for further discussion.

In March 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2016-09, "Compensation - Stock Compensation (Topic 718): Improvements to Employee Share-Based Payment Accounting." ASU 2016-09 simplifies various aspects of the accounting for share-based payments. The simplifications include, among others, allowing entities to withhold shares to satisfy the employer's statutory tax withholding requirement up to the highest marginal tax rate applicable to employees rather than the employer's minimum statutory rate without requiring liability classification for the award, modifying the requirement to estimate the number of awards that will ultimately vest by providing an accounting policy election to either estimate the number of forfeitures or recognize forfeitures as they occur; and changing certain presentation requirements in the statement of cash flows, including requiring the cash paid to taxing authorities arising from withheld shares to be classified as a financing activity. ASU 2016-09 was effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2016, and interim periods within those annual periods.

The Company adopted ASU 2016-09 as of January 1, 2017. In connection with the adoption, the Company elected as an accounting policy to record forfeitures as they occur. The adoption of this standard did not have a material impact on the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements.

Severance Expense and Other Related Restructure Expenses. Following the receipt of authorization from its shareholders, the Company filed the required forms and completed its transition from a business development company to a CEF on March 30, 2017. The Company also completed a reduction in number of employees and moved its offices from New York, New York, to Montclair, New Jersey, as is discussed in more detail below. Certain costs associated with these transitions are accounted for and shown as "Expenses related to restructure" in the accompanying Consolidated Statement of Operations.

Rent Expense and Sub-lease Income. Our lease at 1450 Broadway, New York, New York, commenced on January 21, 2010. The lease expires on December 31, 2019. The base rent is $36 per square foot with a 2.5 percent increase per year over the 10 years of the lease, subject to a full abatement of rent for four months and a rent credit for six months throughout the lease term. We apply these rent abatements, credits, escalations and landlord payments on a straight-line basis in the determination of rent expense over the lease term.

On June 9, 2017, we entered into a sub-lease for our office space in New York that began on June 15, 2017, and extends through the remainder of our lease term, through December 31, 2019. The base rent is $37 per square foot with a 3 percent increase per year, subject to an abatement of rent and a rent credit to the sub-lessee for 3.9 months. We apply the rent abatement and credit on a straight-line basis in the determination of rental income over the sub-lease term. The difference between the total rental income under the sub-lease and the total rent due to our landlord is a shortfall of $139,778, plus the maximum of our portion of the property tax expense escalation through the end of the lease term of $73,720 and the reversal of leasehold improvement amortization of $69,360, equals $144,138, which is recorded as "Loss on abandoned lease" under expenses related to restructure in the accompanying Consolidated Statement of Operations.

During the year ended December 31, 2017, the Company earned rental income of $134,892, from the sub-lease of our office space in New York, which is recorded as "Sub-lease income" under investment income in the accompanying Consolidated Statement of Operations.

We currently lease and run our daily operations in approximately 1,250 square feet of office space in Montclair, New Jersey, on a month-to-month basis. The base rent is approximately $26 per square foot. Either the Company or the landlord may terminate the lease at any time with two months' written notice to either party.

Realized Gain or Loss and Unrealized Appreciation or Depreciation of Portfolio Investments. Realized gain or loss is recognized when an investment is disposed of and is computed as the difference between the Company's cost basis in the investment at the disposition date and the net proceeds received from such disposition. Realized gains and losses on investment transactions are determined by specific identification. Unrealized appreciation or depreciation is computed as the difference between the fair value of the investment and the cost basis of such investment.

Income Taxes. As we currently intend to qualify as a RIC in future years and distribute any ordinary income, the Company does not accrue for income taxes. The Company has capital loss carryforwards that can be used to offset net realized capital gains. The Company recognizes interest and penalties in income tax expense. We pay federal, state and local income taxes on behalf of our wholly owned subsidiary, Ventures, which is a C corporation. See Note 10. Income Taxes for further discussion.

Foreign Currency Translation. The accounting records of the Company are maintained in U.S. dollars. All assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars based on the rate of exchange of such currencies against U.S. dollars on the date of valuation. The Company does not isolate the portion of the results of operations that arises from changes in foreign currency rates on investments held on its Consolidated Statement of Operations.

Securities Transactions. Securities transactions are accounted for on the date the transaction for the purchase or sale of the securities is entered into by the Company (i.e., trade date). Securities transactions outside conventional channels, such as private transactions, are recorded as of the date the Company obtains the right to demand the securities purchased or to collect the proceeds from a sale and incurs the obligation to pay for the securities purchased or to deliver the securities sold.

Concentration of Credit Risk. The Company places its cash and cash equivalents with financial institutions and, at times, cash held in depository accounts may exceed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation's insured limit and is subject to the credit risk of such institutions to the extent it exceeds such limit.

Concentration of Investor Risk. As of December 31, 2017, two investors, Ariel Investments, LLC and Financial Consulate Inc., owned approximately 16.8 percent and 5.3 percent, respectively, of our outstanding shares.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements. On March 10, 2017, the FASB issued ASU 2017-7, "Compensation - Retirement Benefits (Topic 715): Improving the Presentation of Net Periodic Pension Cost and Net Periodic Post-retirement Benefit Cost." This ASU covers disclosure requirement for service cost components related to pension and post-retirement benefit costs. The guidance will be effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2017, with early adoption permitted. While the Company terminated its Retiree Medical Benefit Plan on April 27, 2017, certain former eligible employees were grandfathered and receive benefits under the plan. Upon termination, all unrecognized prior service cost/(income) was recognized. As the ASU covers disclosure requirements, the Company does not expect that it will have a material impact on its Consolidated Financial Statements.

On August 26, 2016 and November 17, 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-15, "Statement of Cash Flows (Topic 230): Classification of Certain Cash Receipts and Cash Payments" and ASU 2016-18, "Statement of Cash Flows (Topic 230): Restricted Cash", respectively. These ASUs are intended to reduce diversity in practice in how certain transactions and restricted cash are classified and presented in the statement of cash flows. ASU 2016-15 will affect how distributions received from equity method investees and ASU 2016-18 will affect the presentation of restricted cash in the statement of cash flows will be reported. The guidances will be effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2017, with early adoption permitted. The Company discloses the amount and the nature of restricted cash in its application of ASU 2016-18. The Company does not expect that it will have a material impact on its Consolidated Financial Statements as activity from the equity method investee has been and will be appropriately disclosed.

On June 16, 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-13, "Financial Instruments - Credit Losses (Topic 326): Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments." This ASU is intended to introduce new guidance for the accounting for credit losses on instruments within scope based on an estimate of current expected credit losses. The guidance will be effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2019, with early adoption permitted. The ASU will impact amounts included in "Interest receivable" on the Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities. The impact of this ASU on the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements is currently being evaluated.

On February 25, 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-02, "Leases (Topic 842)." This ASU revises the accounting for leases. Under the new guidance, lessees are required to recognize a right-of-use asset and a lease liability for all leases. The new guidance will continue to classify leases as either financing or operating, with classification affecting the pattern of expense recognition. The accounting applied by a lessor under the new guidance will be substantially equivalent to current lease accounting guidance. This ASU is required to be applied with a modified retrospective approach to each prior reporting period presented and provides for certain practical expedients. The guidance will be effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2018, with early adoption permitted. The Company has two leases and adoption will be determined based on the remaining term of the leases in comparison to effective date of the ASU. The impact of this ASU on the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements is currently being evaluated.

On May 28, 2014, the FASB and the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") issued ASU 2014-09, "Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606)," their final converged standard on revenue recognition. This ASU provides a single, comprehensive revenue recognition model for all contracts with customers and supersedes current revenue recognition guidance. The guidance contains principles that an entity will apply to determine the measurement of revenue and timing of when it is recognized. The underlying principle is that an entity will recognize revenue to depict the transfer of goods or services to customers at an amount that the entity expects to be entitled to in exchange for those goods or services. This ASU also includes enhanced disclosures that are significantly more comprehensive than those in existing revenue standards. This ASU, as amended, is applicable for most entities starting in 2018. The guidance will be effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2017, and permits early adoption a year earlier (that is, for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2016). The guidance allows entities to apply the guidance retrospectively using any combination of several optional practical expedients. Alternatively, the guidance allows entities to recognize the cumulative effect of initially applying the guidance as an opening balance sheet adjustment to equity in the period of initial application. This approach must be supplemented by additional disclosures. The Company generates management fees and carried interest from the management of capital in funds and special purpose vehicles. The recognition of this revenue in the Company's financial statements is covered by this ASU. The Company's revenue recognition policies are substantially similar to those prescribed by the ASU. Neither the accounting nor required disclosure impact of this ASU are expected not to have a material impact on the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements.

NOTE 3. BUSINESS RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

Our business activities contain elements of risk. We consider the principal types of market risk to be valuation risk, diversification risk, interest rate risk and foreign currency risk. Although we are risk-seeking rather than risk-averse in our investments, we consider the management of risk to be essential to our business.

Valuation Risk

Value, as defined in Section 2(a)(41) of the 1940 Act, is (i) the market price for those securities for which market quotations are readily available and (ii) fair value as determined in good faith by, or under the direction of, the Board of Directors for all other assets. (See Note 2 contained in Item 1. Report to Shareholders.)

We have historically invested primarily in privately held companies, the securities of which are inherently illiquid. We are currently focused on investing in what we believe are deeply undervalued microcapitalization publicly traded companies. Our publicly traded investments account for approximately 30 percent of the value of our portfolio of investments. Although these companies are publicly traded, their stock may not trade at high volumes, which may restrict our ability to sell our positions and prices can be volatile. We may also be subject to restrictions on transfer and/or other lock-up provisions after these companies initially go public. Many of our privately held and publicly traded businesses tend to not have attained profitability, and many of these businesses also lack management depth and have limited or no history of operations. Because of the speculative nature of our investments and the lack of a liquid market for and restrictions on transfers of privately held investments, there is greater risk of loss relative to traditional marketable investment securities.

Approximately 73 percent of the portion of our portfolio that was fair valued was comprised of securities of 24 privately held companies, as well as our restricted common stock and restricted stock units of TheStreet, Inc., and our warrants of Champions Oncology, Inc. and OpGen, Inc., which are all publicly traded companies. Approximately 0.3 percent of the portion of our equity-focused portfolio that was valued according to the equity method was comprised of one privately held company. Because there is typically no public or readily ascertainable market for our interests in the small privately held companies in which we invest, the valuation of the securities in that portion of our portfolio is determined in good faith by our Valuation Committee, which is comprised of all of the independent members of our Board of Directors. The values are determined in accordance with our Valuation Procedures and are subject to significant estimates and judgments. The fair value of the securities in our portfolio may differ significantly from the values that would be placed on these securities if a ready market for the securities existed. Any changes in valuation are recorded in our Consolidated Statement of Operations as "Change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on investments." Changes in valuation of any of our investments in privately held companies from one period to another may be significant.

Diversification Risk

While we are subject to certain diversification requirements regarding the concentration of investments in any one industry or group of industries, we do not choose investments based on a strategy of diversification. We also do not rebalance the portfolio should one of our portfolio companies increase in value substantially relative to the rest of the portfolio. Therefore, the value of our portfolio may be more vulnerable to microeconomic events affecting a single sector, industry or portfolio company and to general macroeconomic events that may be unrelated to our portfolio companies. These factors may subject the value of our portfolio to greater volatility than a company that follows a diversification strategy. As of December 31, 2017 our largest 10 investments by value accounted for approximately 75 percent of the value of our investment portfolio. Our largest three investments, by value, AgBiome, LLC, D-Wave Systems, Inc., and Adesto Technologies Corporation, accounted for approximately 13 percent, 12 percent and 12 percent, respectively, of our equity-focused portfolio at December 31, 2017. AgBiome, LLC, D-Wave Systems, Inc., are privately held portfolio companies, and Adesto Technologies Corporation is a publicly traded company.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate sensitivity refers to the change in earnings that may result from changes in the level of interest rates. We may invest in both short- and long-term U.S. government and agency securities. To the extent that we invest in short- and long-term U.S. government and agency securities, changes in interest rates result in changes in the value of these obligations that result in an increase or decrease of our net asset value. The level of interest rate risk exposure at any given point in time depends on the market environment, the expectations of future price and market movements, and the quantity and duration of long-term U.S. government and agency securities held by the Company, and it will vary from period to period.

In addition, market interest rates for high-yield corporate debt may be an input in determining value of our investments in debt securities of privately held and publicly traded companies. Significant changes in these market rates could affect the value of our debt securities as of the valuation date of measurement of value. While we do not currently have any investments in debt securities with floating interest rates, investment income in such securities should we acquire them in the future could be adversely affected by changes in interest rates.

Foreign Currency Risk

Most of our investments are denominated in U.S. dollars, based on country of issuer. We currently have one investment denominated in Canadian dollars. We are exposed to foreign currency risk related to potential changes in foreign currency exchange rates pertaining to this investment. The potential loss in fair value on this investment resulting from a 10 percent adverse change in quoted foreign currency exchange rates is $488,878 at December 31, 2017. We do not currently hedge our exposure to fluctuations in currencies.

Valuation Methodologies and Inputs for Level 3 Assets

The following sections describe the valuation techniques and significant unobservable inputs used to measure Level 3 assets.

Preferred Stock, Preferred Units, LLC Interests, Bridge Notes and Common Stock

Preferred stock, preferred units, LLC interests, bridge notes and common stock are valued by either a market, income or hybrid approach using internal models with inputs, most of which are not market observable. Common inputs for valuing Level 3 preferred stock, bridge note and private common stock investments include prices from recently executed private transactions in a company's securities or unconditional firm offers, revenue multiples of comparable publicly traded companies, merger and acquisition ("M&A") transactions consummated by comparable companies, discounts for lack of marketability, rights and preferences of the class of securities we own as compared with other classes of securities the portfolio company has issued, particularly related to potential liquidity scenarios of an initial public offering ("IPO") or an acquisition transaction, estimated time to exit, volatilities of comparable publicly traded companies and management's best estimate of risk attributable to non-performance risk. Certain securities are valued using the present value of future cash flows.

We may also consider changes in market values for sets of comparable companies when recent private transaction information is not available and/or in consideration of non-performance risk. We define non-performance risk as the risk that the price per share (or implied valuation of a portfolio company) or the effective yield of a debt security of a portfolio company, as applicable, does not appropriately represent the risk that a portfolio company with negative cash flow will be: (a) unable to raise capital, will need to be shut down and will not return our invested capital; or (b) able to raise capital, but at a valuation significantly lower than the implied post-money valuation of the last round of financing. We assess non-performance risk for each private portfolio company quarterly. Our assessment of non-performance risk typically includes an evaluation of the financial condition and operating results of the company, the company's progress towards milestones, and the long-term potential of the business and technology of the company and how this potential may or may not affect the value of the shares owned by us. An increase to the non-performance risk or a decrease in the private offering price of a future round of financing from that of the most recent round would result in a lower fair value measurement and/or a change in the distribution of value among the classes of securities we own.

Option pricing models place a high weighting on liquidation preferences, which means that small differences in how the preferences are structured can have a material effect on the fair value of our securities at the time of valuation and also on future valuations should additional rounds of financing occur with senior preferences. As such, valuations calculated by option pricing models may not increase if 1) rounds of financing occur at higher prices per share, 2) liquidation preferences include multiples on investment, 3) the amount of invested capital is small and/or 4) liquidation preferences are senior to prior rounds of financing. Additionally, an increase in the volatility assumption generally increases the enterprise value calculated in an option pricing model. An increase in the time to exit assumption also generally increases the enterprise value calculated in an option pricing model. Variations in the expected time to exit or expected volatility assumptions have a significant impact on fair value.

Bridge notes commonly contain terms that provide for the conversion of the full amount of principal, and sometimes interest, into shares of preferred stock at a defined price per share and/or the price per share of the next round of financing. The use of a discount for non-performance risk in the valuation of bridge notes would indicate the potential for conversion of only a portion of the principal, plus interest when applicable, into shares of preferred stock or the potential that a conversion event will not occur and that the likely outcome of a liquidation of assets would result in payment of less than the remaining principal outstanding of the note. An increase in non-performance risk would result in a lower fair value measurement.

Warrants and Options

We use the Black-Scholes-Merton option-pricing model to determine the fair value of warrants and options held in our portfolio unless there is a publicly traded active market for such warrants and options or another indication of value such as a sale of the portfolio company. Option pricing models, including the Black-Scholes-Merton model, require the use of subjective input assumptions, including expected volatility, expected life, expected dividend rate, and expected risk-free rate of return. In the Black-Scholes-Merton model, variations in the expected volatility or expected term assumptions have a significant impact on fair value. Because certain securities underlying the warrants in our portfolio are not publicly traded, many of the required input assumptions are more difficult to estimate than they would be if a public market for the underlying securities existed.

An input to the Black-Scholes-Merton option-pricing model is the value per share of the type of stock for which the warrant is exercisable as of the date of valuation. This input is derived according to the methodologies discussed in "Preferred Stock, Preferred Units, LLC Interests, Bridge Notes and Common Stock."

Rights to Payments

Rights to payments are valued using a probability-weighted discounted cash flow model. As part of Amgen Inc.'s acquisition of our former portfolio company, BioVex Group, Inc., we are entitled to potential future milestone payments based upon the achievement of certain regulatory and sales milestones. We are also entitled to future payments from Xenio Holdings, Inc., that merged with one of our former portfolio companies, Xenio Systems, Inc. in the event of a sale of Xenio Holdings, Inc. We assign probabilities to the achievements of the various milestones. Milestones identified as independent milestones can be achieved irrespective of the achievement of other contractual milestones. Dependent milestones are those that can only be achieved after another, or series of other, milestones are achieved. The interest rates used in these models are observable inputs from sources such as the published interest rates for corporate bonds of the acquiring or comparable companies.

Senior Secured Debt

We currently hold investments in senior secured debt securities. We value these securities using an income and market approaches. The income approach uses valuation techniques to convert future amounts (for example, cash flows or earnings) to a single present value amount (discounted). The measurement is based on the value indicated by current market expectations about those future amounts. Common inputs for valuing Level 3 debt investments include: the effective yield of the debt investment or, in the case where we have received warrant coverage, the warrant-adjusted effective yield of the security, adjustments for changes in the yields of comparable publicly traded high-yield debt funds and risk-free interest rates and an assessment of non-performance risk. For debt investments, an increase in yields would result in a lower fair value measurement. Furthermore, yields would decrease, and value would increase, if the company is exceeding targets and risk has been substantially reduced from the level of risk that existed at the time of investment. Yields would increase, and values would decrease, if the company is failing to meet its targets and risk has been increased from the level of risk that existed at the time of investment. The market approach distributes an estimated value of the entity through the liquidation waterfall to derive value. Common inputs for valuing by the market approach include: multiples of publicly traded comparable companies, time to expected return/exit, discounts for lack of marketability and probability weighted expected return models.

Changes in Valuation Approaches

During the year ending December 31, 2017, the following changes in valuation methodology occurred since the filing of our annual financial statements on Form 10-K as of December 31, 2016:

- We changed the valuation methodology of our debt security of Muses Labs, Inc., from the market approach to the income approach owing to the decision to seek repayment of the debt rather than having it convert into equity securities of the company.
- We changed the valuation methodology of our securities of Mersana Therapeutics, Inc., from the hybrid approach to the market approach owing to the company completing an initial public offering in June 2017.
- We changed the valuation methodology of our securities of Nanosys, Inc., from the market approach to the income approach owing to a round of financing that became the primary input to determining value.
- We changed the valuation methodology of our securities of D-Wave Systems, Inc. from the hybrid approach to the market approach owing to a secondary market transaction that became the primary input to determining value.
- We changed the valuation methodology of our securities of Produced Water Absorbents, Inc., from the income approach to the market approach owing to changes in the inputs used to derive value, particularly related to the estimated time to exit.

NOTE 7. STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

Until March 27, 2017, the Company maintained the Stock Plan, which provided for the grant of equity-based awards of stock options to our officers and employees and restricted stock to our officers, employees and non-employee directors, subject to compliance with the 1940 Act and an exemptive order granted on April 3, 2012, by the SEC permitting us to award shares of restricted stock (the "Exemptive Order").

Stock Option Awards

On March 27, 2017, the Company's Board of Directors voted to terminate the Stock Plan. As part of the decision, holders of the options were given the opportunity to exercise their options prior to March 27, 2017. On March 27, 2017, all outstanding and unexercised options were canceled and holders of unexercised stock options were paid $0.01 per share, or approximately $2,000. At the time of cancellation all options were already exercisable.

A summary of the changes in outstanding stock options for the year ended December 31, 2017, is as follows:

	Shares	Weighted Average Exercise Price	Weighted Average Grant Date Fair Value	Weighted Average Remaining Contractual Term (Years)	Aggregate Intrinsic Value
Options Outstanding at January 1, 2017	197,852	$ 6.86	$ 3.25	1.01	$ 0
Canceled	(197,852)	6.86	3.25	0
Options Outstanding and Exercisable at December 31, 2017	0

Restricted Stock

On June 11, 2012, the Compensation Committee granted the employees a total of 1,780,000 shares of restricted stock. A total of 1,068,000 awards (60 percent) were to be vested when the volume-weighted stock price was at or above pre-determined stock price targets over a 30-day period. These pre-determined stock price targets ranged from $5.00 per share to $9.00 per share. The remaining 712,000 of these shares (40 percent) had vesting dates ranging from December 31, 2012, through June 30, 2017, based on the employee's continued service to the Company. Pursuant to the Exemptive Order, non-employee directors received up to 2,000 shares of restricted stock annually, which vested pro-rata over a three-year period from the date of the grant. The compensation expense for the service-based award was determined by the market price of our stock at the date of grant applied to the total number of shares that were anticipated to fully vest.

On March 24, 2017, the Company received approval from shareholders to withdraw its election to be treated as a business development company ("BDC") under the 1940 Act and to return to the Company's prior status as a registered closed-end management investment company under the 1940 Act. As part of this transition, the Company pursued certain restructuring steps including the voluntary and involuntary terminations of certain employees (collectively the, "Terminated Employees"). In addition, CEFs are not permitted to have an equity incentive plan without exemptive relief from the SEC.

In light of these circumstances, the Board voted to vest the remaining 63,745 service-based restricted stock grants for all employees and directors as of March 24, 2017. This acceleration of vesting resulted in a non-cash expense of $99,467.

Additionally, the Board voted to modify 258,800 market condition restricted stock grants with stock price targets of $5 and $6 per share such that these grants vested immediately on March 24, 2017 (effectively changing the stock price target to equal the Company's stock price as of March 24, 2017). This modification resulted in a non-cash expense of $204,588 equal to the incremental fair value that resulted from the modification.

As a result of the aforementioned terminations, a total of 280,200 market condition grants with stock price targets of $7, $8 and $9 per share granted to the Terminated Employees were forfeited. This forfeiture resulted in a non-cash (benefit) of $(538,372). A total of 108,000 market condition grants with stock price targets of $7, $8 and $9 per share granted to non-Terminated Employees were canceled along with the Stock Plan on March 27, 2017. This cancellation resulted in a non-cash expense of $43,970. The total non cash (benefit) for forfeited and canceled market condition restricted stock is $(494,402).

The net non-cash compensation (benefit) resulting from all of the items above for the year ended December 31, 2017, was $(190,347).

Following are the changes for restricted stock awards for the year ended December 31, 2017, were as follows:

	Shares	Weighted- Average Grant Date Fair Value Per Share
Outstanding at January 1, 2017	710,745	$ 2.56
Granted	0	0.00
Vested based on service	(217,353)	3.34
Shares withheld related to net share settlement of restricted stock	(105,192)	3.34
Forfeited	(280,200)	2.36
Canceled	(108,000)	2.36
Outstanding at December 31, 2017	0	$ 0.00

Under net settlement procedures applicable to our outstanding restricted stock awards for current employees, upon each settlement date, restricted stock awards were withheld to cover the required withholding tax, which was based on the value of the restricted stock award on the settlement date as determined by the closing price of our common stock on the vesting date. The remaining amounts were delivered to the recipient as shares of our common stock. During 2017, 322,545 restricted stock awards vested, of which 300,550 restricted stock awards were net settled by withholding 105,192 shares, which represented the employees' minimum statutory obligation for each employee's applicable income and other employment taxes and remitted cash totaling $139,780 to the appropriate tax authorities. The amount remitted to the tax authorities for the employees' tax obligation was reflected as a financing activity within our Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows. The shares withheld by us as a result of the net settlement of restricted stock awards are not considered issued and outstanding, thereby reducing our shares outstanding used to calculate net asset value per share.

NOTE 8. OFFICERS' AND BOARD OF DIRECTORS' COMPENSATION

The aggregate compensation (salaries, restricted stock vested, bonus, medical and dental benefits) paid by the Company during the year ended December 31, 2017, to its officers amounted to $1,935,378. In addition, the Compensation Committee awarded a deferred bonus to the Company's officers of $396,000 payable only upon achievement of certain metrics defined by the Compensation Committee over the next two years. As of December 31, 2017, $164,340 related to this deferred bonus was included in accounts payable, which represents the time-elapsed portion of the deferred bonus accrued on a straight-line basis through December 31, 2017 based on each metric measurement date.

Certain officers and directors currently and may in the future serve as members of the board of directors of our portfolio companies, including our controlled portfolio companies. These officers and directors do not receive any compensation for serving in such roles directly from the portfolio companies. Any such cash compensation paid by portfolio companies to members of their respective Boards of Directors is paid directly to the Company. In the case of securities-based compensation (restricted stock or stock options), the officer or director due such compensation assigns all beneficial interest, including but not limited to economic benefit and voting control, to such securities over to the Company.

An additional $220,083 of aggregate compensation was paid by us to certain prior officers of the Company during the year ended December 31, 2017.

The aggregate compensation related to vested restricted stock paid by the Company to its Board of Directors during the year ended December 31, 2017, amounted to $33,806. This compensation was in addition to the "Directors' fees and expenses" included in the accompanying Consolidated Statement of Operations.

NOTE 9. EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

401(k) Plan

We adopted a 401(k) Plan covering substantially all of our employees. Matching contributions to the plan are at the discretion of the Compensation Committee. For the year ended December 31, 2017, the Compensation Committee approved a 100 percent match, which amounted to $123,065.

Medical Benefit Retirement Plan

We administer a plan to provide medical and dental insurance for retirees and their spouses who, at the time of their retirement, attained certain years of service with us and a certain age (the "Medical Benefit Retirement Plan"). On March 7, 2013, the Board of Directors amended the Medical Benefit Retirement Plan. The amendment limits the medical benefit to $10,000 per year for a period of ten years. Our accumulated post-retirement benefit obligation was re-measured as of the plan amendment date, which resulted in a $1,101,338 decrease in our liability. A deferred gain of $1,101,338 owing to this amendment was included in "Accumulated other comprehensive income" as of March 31, 2013. This amount was being amortized over a service period of 5.27 years.

On April 27, 2017, the Board of Directors terminated the plan. The termination does not affect benefits accrued by former employees who are grandfathered under the former terms of the plan, and the termination of the plan does not affect benefits accrued by certain former employees who were grandfathered under the amended terms of the plan. The Medical Benefit Retirement Plan was terminated for all other employees. As a result of the termination, during the year ended December 31, 2017, the remaining amortization of $300,237 was included as a reduction of "Salaries and benefits" on our Consolidated Statement of Operations.

The plan is unfunded and has no assets. The following disclosures about changes in the benefit obligation under our plan to provide medical and dental insurance for retirees are as of the measurement date of December 31, 2017:

	2017
Accumulated Post-retirement Benefit Obligation at Beginning of Year	$ 1,067,919
Service Cost	3,543
Interest Cost	40,640
Curtailment Loss	35,749
Actuarial Loss	20,002
Benefits Paid	(23,024)
Accumulated Post-retirement Benefit Obligation at End of Year	$ 1,144,829

In accounting for the plan, the assumption made for the discount rate was 3.33 percent for the year ended December 31, 2017. The assumed health care cost trend rates in 2017 were 8 percent grading to 5 percent over 10 years for medical and 5 percent per year for dental. The effect on disclosure information of a one percentage point change in the assumed health care cost trend rate for each future year is shown below.

	1% Decrease in Rates	Assumed Rates	1% Increase in Rates
Aggregated Service and Interest Cost	$ 40,256	$ 44,183	$ 48,208
Accumulated Post-retirement Benefit Obligation	$ 1,048,553	$ 1,144,829	$ 1,259,867

The net periodic post-retirement benefit cost for the year is determined as the sum of service cost for the year, interest on the accumulated post-retirement benefit obligation and amortization of the prior service cost curtailment gains/losses and actuarial gains/losses over the average remaining service period of employees expected to receive plan benefits. The following is the net periodic post-retirement benefit cost for the years ended December 31, 2017:

	2017
Service Cost	$ 3,543
Interest Cost on Accumulated Post-retirement Benefit Obligation	40,640
Amortization of Prior Service Cost	(300,237)
Amortization of Net (Gain)/Loss	14,408
Net Periodic Post Retirement Benefit Cost	$ (241,646)

The Company estimates the following benefits to be paid in each of the following years:

2018	$ 54,377
2019	$ 80,519
2020	$ 82,901
2021	$ 84,532
2022	$ 86,067
2023 through 2026	$ 413,143

For the year ended December 31, 2017, net unrecognized actuarial losses, which resulted primarily from the decrease in the discount rate, increased by $41,343, which represents $55,751 of actuarial and curtailment losses arising during the year, offset by a reclassification adjustment of $14,408 that increased the net periodic benefit cost for the year.

Executive Mandatory Retirement Benefit Plan

On May 5, 2011, the Board of Directors terminated the Amended and Restated Executive Mandatory Retirement Benefit Plan. The plan was adopted in 2003 in order to begin planning for eventual management succession for individuals who are employed by us in a bona fide executive or high policy-making position. The plan provided benefits required by age discrimination laws as a result of the Company's policy of mandatory retirement when such individuals attained the age of 65. Our former President accrued benefits under this plan prior to his retirement, and the termination of this plan has no impact on his accrued benefits. At December 31, 2017, we had $194,516 accrued for benefits for this former employee under the plan, which is included in "Post-retirement plan liabilities" on the Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

NOTE 10. INCOME TAXES

We filed for the 1999 tax year to elect treatment as a RIC under Subchapter M of the Code and qualified for the same treatment for the years 2000 through 2015. We did not qualify as a RIC under Subchapter M of the Code in 2016. We did not have net taxable income in 2016, our failure to qualify as a RIC did not result in a tax liability for the Company. We qualified as a RIC under Subchapter M of the Code in 2017.

In the case of a RIC that furnishes capital to development corporations, there is an exception to the rule relating to the diversification of investments required to qualify for RIC treatment. Historically, because of the specialized nature of our investment portfolio, we generally could satisfy the diversification requirements under the Code if we receive a certification from the SEC pursuant to Section 851(e) of the Code. This exception is available only to RICs that the SEC determines to be principally engaged in the furnishing of capital to other corporations that are principally engaged in the development or exploitation of inventions, technological improvements, new processes, or products not previously generally available ("SEC Certification"). Because of our new focus on investing in microcapitalization publicly traded companies, that we believe are deeply undervalued, we do not believe we qualify for and do not intend to file for such certification in 2017.

The Company's status as a RIC is irrevocable, but qualification is measured annually. Under certain circumstances, we might take action in a given year to ensure that we would be taxed in that subsequent year as a C Corporation, rather than as a RIC. This action would enable us to apply our operating loss carryforwards against income and realized gains on investments.

As of December 31, 2017, we had approximately $68 million in operating loss carryforwards that begin to expire in 2026. Given the Company's status as a RIC and the ability or inability to use such operating loss carryforwards depends on qualification metrics measured in each taxable year separate from prior years, it does not include a deferred tax asset and valuation allowance on its Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

As a RIC, we also will fail to qualify for favorable RIC tax treatment for a taxable year if we do not satisfy the 90 percent Income Test or Annual Distribution Requirement for such year. In the event we do not satisfy the 90 percent Income Test, the Diversification Tests or the Annual Distribution Requirement for any taxable year, we will be subject to federal tax with respect to all of our taxable income, whether or not distributed. In addition, all our distributions to shareholders in that situation generally will be taxable as ordinary dividends.

Income from fees for providing managerial assistance to portfolio companies and sub-lease income generally do not qualify as good RIC income under the 90 percent Income Test. We generated less than 10 percent of our income from such payments for the year ended December 31, 2017, and therefore satisfied the 90 percent Income Test.

Furthermore, our ownership percentages in our portfolio have grown over the last several years, which makes it more difficult to pass certain RIC diversification tests when companies in our portfolio are successful and we wish to invest more capital in those companies to increase our investment returns. As long as the aggregate values of our non-qualifying assets remain below 50 percent of total assets, we will continue to qualify as a RIC. Rather than selling portfolio companies that are performing well in order to pass our RIC diversification tests, we may opt instead not to qualify as a RIC. We will choose to take such action only if we believe that the result of the action will benefit us and our shareholders.

For federal tax purposes, the Company's 2014 through 2017 tax years remain open for examination by the tax authorities under the normal three-year statute of limitations. Generally, for state tax purposes, the Company's 2013 through 2017 tax years remain open for examination by the tax authorities under a four-year statute of limitations.

For the year ended December 31, 2017, the Company recorded a consolidated expense of $12,853 in federal, state and local income taxes.

We pay federal, state and local taxes on behalf of Ventures, which is taxed as a C Corporation. For the year ended December 31, 2017, our income tax benefit for Ventures was $881.

The Company realized net short- and long-term losses of $11,755,179 in 2017. The Company offsets any gains with capital loss carryforwards and neither owes federal income taxes on the gains or is required to distribute a portion of the gains to shareholders.

With the change of the Company's status from a BDC to a CEF, we have updated certain components of the Company's capital accounts on a tax-basis as a RIC from inception to December 31, 2017, to reflect a return of capital statement of position ("ROCSOP") adjustment. This ROCSOP adjustment includes the reclassification of $11,054,182 of accumulated net operating loss and $70,456,713 of accumulated net realized loss into additional paid in capital. Of the total reclassification for accumulated net operating loss $3,573,547 was for the current year. This reclassification results primarily from certain non-deductible expenses and net operating loss. There is no impact to net asset value per share as a result of this ROCSOP adjustment. This adjustment may change in future years if the Company does not qualify as a RIC in a given tax year.

For the year ended December 31, 2017, the Company recorded aggregate unrealized appreciation of $18,048,421, aggregate unrealized depreciation of $36,763,752 and net unrealized depreciation is $18,715,331. The aggregate tax cost of investments is $98,176,943.

On December 22, 2010, the Regulated Investment Company Modernization Act of 2010 (the "Act") was enacted, which changed various technical rules governing the tax treatment of RICs. The changes are generally effective for taxable years beginning after the date of enactment. One of the more prominent changes addresses capital loss carryforwards. Under the Act, the Company will be permitted to carry forward capital losses incurred in taxable years beginning after the date of enactment for an unlimited year. However, any losses incurred during those future taxable years will be required to be utilized prior to the losses incurred in pre-enactment taxable years, which carry an expiration date. As a result of this ordering rule, pre-enactment capital loss carryforwards may be more likely to expire unused. Additionally, post-enactment capital loss carryforwards will retain their character as either short-term or long-term capital losses rather than being considered all short term as permitted under previous regulation.

As of December 31, 2017, we had post-enactment loss carryforwards under the provisions of the Act of $21,205,166 long term. Post-enactment losses have no expiration date. As of December 31, 2017, we had pre-enactment loss carryforwards totaling $3,875,967, expiring in 2018.

On December 22, 2017, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 (the "2017 Act") was enacted, which among other changes, lowered the tax rates for corporations and how future loss carryforwards can be used against future gains. While the 2017 Act did not have any impact on the Company's financial statements as of December 31, 2017, it is possible that the change of the corporate tax rate from 35 percent to 21 percent in the 2017 Act will impact future decisions regarding the issuance of deemed dividends in the future should the Company be in a net taxable gain position on investments.

NOTE 11. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

On July 21, 2014, the Company invested in Accelerator IV-New York Corporation ("Accelerator"), a company that will identify emerging biotechnology companies for the Company to invest in directly. The investment consists of an operating capital commitment and an investment commitment to be invested in the identified portfolio companies over a five-year period. During the third quarter of 2016, the board of directors of Accelerator voted to modify the operating commitment and investment commitment distributions, which resulted in the Company's operating commitment to be set at $833,333 and investment commitment to be set at $3,166,667. Accelerator called $137,520 in operating capital during the year ending December 31, 2017. As of December 31, 2017, the Company had remaining unfunded commitments of $113,906 and $1,483,427, or approximately 13.7 percent and 46.8 percent, of the total operating and investment commitments, respectively. The withdrawal of contributed capital is not permitted. The transfer or assignment of capital is subject to approval by Accelerator.

If the Company defaults on these commitments, the other investors may purchase the Company's shares of Accelerator and any tenant companies of the Accelerator, currently Lodo Therapeutics Corporation and Petra Pharma Corporation, for $0.001 per share. The combined value of Accelerator, Lodo Therapeutics and Petra Pharma is $2,582,837, or $0.08 per share as of December 31, 2017. In the event of default, the Company would still be required to contribute the remaining operating commitment.

The Company's most recent investments in HALE.life Corporation, ORIG3N, Inc., and Petra Pharma, were in rounds of financing that include investment of additional capital upon achievement of certain quantitative and qualitative milestones of $1 million, $49,804 and $1 million, respectively. The milestones that would trigger these potential investments had yet to occur as of December 31, 2017. The milestone related to the additional investment in ORIG3N, Inc. was achieved in January 2018 and the additional capital was invested in February 2018. Petra Pharma's board elected to change the milestones related to the tranche of the round of financing in which the Company would invest up to an additional $1 million investment. This modification resulted in the investment of $369,748 in January 2018 and the remainder being potentially invested upon future achievement of certain qualitative and quantitative milestones. Should these milestones be successfully achieved and the Company decides to not invest such capital, the securities held by the Company in each portfolio company may be subject to punitive action including, but not limited to, conversion from preferred stock to common stock and/or repurchase by the respective companies at a substantial discount to current carrying value. Additionally, portfolio companies may seek additional capital in the future and any decision by the Company to not participate in the round of financing could result in similar outcomes that could negatively impact the value of the Company's securities of those portfolio companies.

On September 24, 2009, we signed a ten-year lease for approximately 6,900 square feet of office space located at 1450 Broadway, New York, New York. On March 23, 2017, we signed a month-to-month lease for approximately 1,250 square feet of office space located at 7 N. Willow Street, Suite 4B, Montclair, New Jersey. See Note 2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies for details of these leases. Upon an event of default, the leases each provide that the landlord may terminate the lease and require us to pay all rent that would have been payable during the remainder of the lease or until the date the landlord re-enters the premises.

- (A) Common stock, warrants, membership units and, in some cases, preferred stock are generally non-income producing and restricted. The principal amount of debt and the number of shares of common and preferred stock and number of membership units are shown in the accompanying Consolidated Schedule of Investments as of December 31, 2017.
- (B) Represents the total amount of interest or dividends and yield-enhancing fees on debt securities credited/(debited) to income for the portion of the year an investment was a control or affiliate investment, as appropriate. Amounts credited to preferred or common stock represent accrued bridge note interest related to conversions that occurred during the quarter ended December 31, 2017.
- (C) Gross additions include increases in investments resulting from new portfolio investments, paid-in-kind interest or dividends, the amortization of discounts and fees. Gross additions also include net increases in unrealized appreciation or decreases in unrealized depreciation.
- (D) Gross reductions include decreases in investments resulting from principal collections related to investment repayments or sales, the amortization of premiums and acquisition costs. Gross reductions also include net increases in unrealized depreciation or decreases in unrealized appreciation.
- (E) "Controlled Affiliated" is defined as control of 50.1 percent or more of the voting securities outstanding and/or 50.1 percent or more control of the appointment of members of the board of directors.
- (F) "Non-Controlled Affiliated" is defined as ownership of five percent or more, but less than 25 percent, of the voting shares of the portfolio company, or where we hold the right to appoint one or more members to the portfolio company's board of directors, but less than 25 percent of the members of the board of directors.

(G) Debt security was on non-accrual status and, therefore, was considered non-income producing during the year ended December 31, 2017.

Information related to the amount of equity in the net profit and loss for the year for the investments listed has not been included in this schedule. This information is not considered to be meaningful owing to the complex capital structures of the portfolio companies, with different classes of equity securities outstanding with different preferences in liquidation. These investments are not consolidated, nor are they accounted for under the equity method of accounting, with the exception of Accelerator IV-New York Corporation, which are accounted for under the equity method.

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated statement of assets and liabilities, including the consolidated schedule of investments, of 180 Degree Capital Corp. and its subsidiaries (the "Company") as of December 31, 2017, the related consolidated statements of operations and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2017, the consolidated statements of changes in net assets for each of the two years in the period ended December 31, 2017, including the related notes, and the financial highlights for each of the five years in the period ended December 31, 2017 (collectively referred to as the "consolidated financial statements"). In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2017, the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended, the changes in their net assets for each of the two years in the period ended December 31, 2017 and the financial highlights for each of the five years in the period ended December 31, 2017 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) ("PCAOB") and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of December 31, 2017 by correspondence with the custodian and portfolio companies; when replies were not received from portfolio companies, we performed other auditing procedures. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Mr. Rendino has served as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Company since March 2017 and as a member of the Board since June 2016. From 2012 to 2016, Mr. Rendino served as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of RGJ Capital, where he led a Graham and Dodd approach to value investing. His team focused on a blend of long-only ideas and pair trades when a statistical anomaly and inconsistency between two variables are identified. (a)(2) Not applicable.

(a)(3) The principal elements of our executive compensation program for 2017 are base salary, bonus, other benefits and perquisites, and severance benefits. The Compensation Committee of the Board believes that each element is essential to achieve the Company's objectives as set forth above.

Base Salaries. We recognize the need to pay our named executive officers, and other employees, a competitive annual base salary. We review base salaries for our named executive officers annually, often employing data provided from independent compensation consultants. Base salaries have historically been adjusted annually for inflation and also based on changes in the marketplace and an executive's individual performance, salary position among peers, career growth potential and/or a change in responsibilities.

Cash Bonuses. The Company provides annual bonuses at the discretion of the Committee derived from a number of quantitative and qualitative inputs including, but not limited to:

- Performance against individual and corporate targets and goals;
- Performance as compared to indices and other observable entities that track or invest in microcapitalization publicly traded companies;
- Full year actual versus estimated expenses and expenses as a percentage of assets;
- Changes in the price per share of the Company's stock, including dividends, if any;
- Changes in the net asset value of the Company, including dividends, if any; and
- The importance of retaining employees.

The weighting of these inputs in the Committee's determinations of bonuses are adjusted based on a retrospective full analysis of individual and corporate achievements and challenges during the year under consideration.

Severance Benefits. To further incentivize and retain Messrs. Rendino and Wolfe, we entered into an Executive Severance Agreement with each executive.

Each of Messrs. Rendino and Wolfe's Executive Severance Agreement provides that the executive will receive the following severance benefits in the event that an executive's employment is terminated by us other than for "cause" or an executive resigns for "good reason."

- Twelve months of base salary to be paid in cash periodically in accordance with the Company's normal payroll policies;
- a portion of executive's incentive compensation in cash for the fiscal year in which executive's employment terminates, pro-rated based on time employed during the fiscal year, only to be paid to the extent that performance metrics in the plan are achieved and at the same time as payments to other executives in the applicable incentive compensation plan are paid; and
- Twelve months of COBRA premiums.

Further, under the terms of each Executive Severance Agreement for Messrs. Rendino and Wolfe, in the event an executive's employment is terminated other than for "cause" or an executive resigns for "good reason" within the period commencing three months prior to a change in control and ending 12 months after a change in control, the severance will consist of:

- Twelve months of base salary to be paid in a single cash lump-sum;
- a portion of an executive's incentive compensation in cash for the fiscal year in which executive's employment terminates, pro-rated based on time employed during the fiscal year;
- Twelve months of COBRA premiums.

For purposes of the Executive Severance Agreements, "cause" generally means:

- an act of dishonesty made in connection with the executive's responsibilities as an employee;
- conviction of, or plea of nolo contendere to, a felony or any crime involving fraud or embezzlement;
- gross misconduct;
- unauthorized use or disclosure of any proprietary information or trade secrets;
- willful breach of any obligations under any written agreement or covenant with the Company;
- failure to cooperate in good faith with a governmental or internal investigation;
- or
- continued failure to perform duties after receiving a written demand of performance.

For purposes of the Executive Severance Agreements, "good reason" generally means a voluntary termination following the occurrence of one or more of the following, without the executive's consent that is not cured within 30 days of notice to the Company:

- a material reduction of responsibilities;
- a material reduction in base salary;
- or;
- a material change (at least 50 miles) in the geographic location of Executive's primary work facility or location.
